

CRITICAL MANAGEMENT STUDIES DIVISION

DOCTORAL STUDENT CONSORTIUM

2018 Academy of Management Annual Meeting, Chicago, IL, USA

CALLING ALL DOCTORAL STUDENTS!

APPLICATION DEADLINE: MAY 26, 2018

The CMS Doctoral Student and Early Career Consortium offers PhD students at any stage in their program and early career scholars a great opportunity to connect with a group of international, critically oriented scholars to share knowledge, explore ideas, and contribute to discussions about the meanings and practices of Critical Management Studies research, education and engagement today.

This year the consortium will place an emphasis on the importance of community to build meaningful careers as scholars. We have developed an interactive consortium during which participants will be given the opportunity to have in-depth conversations with senior scholars who have been active members of the CMS community. Topics might include, among other, practices supporting intellectual exchange and building bridges between disciplines, engaging in a meaningful way with relevant stakeholders in one's area of research (research participants, gatekeepers, funders, civil society actors, etc.), promoting critical perspectives in research and education in the business school. Participants will be able to share their experiences and to reflect on how various practices can be supported by the (international) CMS community and themselves in turn support it.

Countering the dominant narrative of career as an individual project, the Consortium will expose PhD students and early scholars to the collective dimension of critical scholarship. It will help gain insight into contributing to the CMS community as an important enabling condition for critically oriented scholarship. Specifically, it will allow participants build enduring partnerships and get exposed to a variety of meaningful and impactful scholarly practices. The Division's Professional Development Workshop Program, which starts after the Consortium and runs through to Saturday evening, offers participants further opportunities for development on a variety of related topics.

The Consortium will be held on Friday August 10th 2018 from 8h to 9h30 and will include a buffet breakfast.

While the Consortium is targeted at students and early career scholars affiliated with the CMS Division, we also welcome participants with a primary affiliation to another Division, who see critical scholarship as important.

Students and Early Career Scholars interested in participating in the Consortium should complete the application form (<http://cms.aom.org/wp-content/uploads/CMS-doctoral-consortium-2018.pdf>) and email it by the deadline (Friday, May 26th, 2018) to Patrizia Zaroni and Marcos Barros (zaronibarroscms@gmail.com). Please note that places are limited and will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis.

CRITICAL MANAGEMENT STUDIES DIVISION

DOCTORAL STUDENT CONSORTIUM

2018 Academy of Management Annual Meeting, Chicago, Illinois, USA

APPLICATION FORM (2 pages)

Name:
Email address:
School/University:
At what stage are you in your PhD program:

Overview of your PhD Research (max about 500 words)

Please provide a short description of your research topic, key research goals, and methodology.

Community-building and Critical Scholarship (max 500 words)

To help us better tailor our consortium to address the participants' needs, please provide

- 1) your own community practices in this stage of your career;
- 2) any questions and concerns you might want the mentors to address, considering the practices of creating a meaningful and active network and their connection to your scholar work in research, teaching, publishing, practical engagement, etc.

Submitting your application:

- Please email your application by Friday, May 26th, 2018 to Patrizia Zanoni and Marcos Barros (zanonibarroscms@gmail.com)
- Please mark your email "CMS Doctoral Student Consortium Application" in the subject heading